Expo: JSP celebrates 50 years

Join in the celebrations on stand P2150 at the Safety & Health Expo at ExCel on 17–19 June as JSP marks 50 years of 'Manufacturing for Safety'.

Live demonstrations on the stand will include face-fit testing of respiratory protective devices using FFRED, the new HSE RPE demonstration model.

JSP will also offer performance testing of its Premier Shield and Hardia+ lens coating technologies for its protective eyewear. Other products to test out include Press to Check, its K2 Height Safety range and the Steath Hybrid.

Expo: ExCel in your career

RRC International will again be taking to the floor at this year's Safety & Health Expo.

Visitors to stand Q2400 will find out why RRC's knowledge and experience of health, safety and environmental training are second to none by taking a peek at its training materials and classroom and e-learning courses.

Offerings will include: samples and free demonstrations of RRC's ever-expanding range of NEBOSH, IOSH, IEMA, CQI and CITB courses; information on its Learning Centre (through which its IOSH Working Safely e-learning course has just been launched); RRC-branded JSP Stealth 9000 safety glasses — free to the first 250 people who register their details on the stand each day of the show; and prize draws for free NEBOSH Certificate and Diploma e-learning courses.

Changes at Cirrus

Cirrus Environmental, specialist in the design and manufacture of environmental noise monitoring, has appointed Craig Storey as general manager as it expands its UK presence with an office in Priestgate, Peterborough.

Storey joined sister company Cirrus Research just over two years ago, working in both technical support and business development. These previous roles will bring experience and key skills to his new senior role. The new Peterborough office accommodation and meeting rooms will form a central base for both the Cirrus Environmental sales and telemarketing teams under his leadership.

Expo: asecos shows new range

German safety storage cabinet manufacturer asecos will be displaying a selection of its latest hazardous material storage cabinets on stand T2101 at the Safety & Health Expo.

Asecos offers a complete range for the storage of flammable liquids, from stand alone to under-bench cabinets. The company's cabinets offer superior fire resistance when compared to single-skinned and double-skinned sheet metal cabinets. Once constructed, the cabinets are stringently tested for fire resistance and offer total protection against direct fire for up to 90 minutes.

Expert advice on storage solutions for flammable liquids will be available on asecos' stand.
