NEBOSH Award in Environmental Awareness at Work PILOT COURSE

NEBOSH

The National Examination Board in Occupational Safety and Health has a reputation that is second to none for the provision of academically rigorous training. NEBOSH offers a wide range of professional qualifications, which are recognised all over the world.

NEBOSH Award in Environmental Awareness at Work – Pilot Course

The NEBOSH Award in Environmental Awareness at Work provides an introduction to environmental issues within the workplace and is ideal for those who need a basic understanding of those issues, as well as staff in organisations that are looking to introduce an environmental management system, or simply improve their environmental performance.

The course covers:

- the meaning of such concepts as environment, weather, climate, habitats, ecosystems, biodiversity, pollution, and sustainability;
- the importance and benefits of sustainable development;
- the main components and certification of an environmental management system;
- pollution, including: air pollution, water pollution, environmental noise and waste;
- environmental impact assessments; and
- the measures that need to be in place when dealing with an emergency.
